Franklin High Income Fund

Advisor Class: FVHIX Class A: FHQRX | Commentary | as of June 30, 2026

Key Takeaways

- Markets: Global growth data released during the second quarter of 2026 painted a generally resilient picture despite the ongoing war in the Middle East, although the euro area remained a pocket of weakness. Inflation rates were mostly higher, partly as the effects of higher energy prices related to the war fed into the data. The US dollar (USD) rose modestly over the quarter, supported by a more hawkish view of US policy rates. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) kept the fed funds rate unchanged over the quarter at 3.50 to 3.75%, although its tone turned more hawkish at its June meeting.
- High-yield (HY) bond yields and spreads rose during the period, as investors remained positive on active capital markets, progress toward a resolution to the conflict in the Middle East and hawkish Fed commentary. HY returns were solid throughout the quarter, following a continued rise in equities and somewhat easing US-Iran tensions. Against this backdrop, HY bonds ended the quarter strong, posting positive returns, with the BB rated cohort outperforming.
- The US HY default rate (including distressed exchanges) increased somewhat during the period, but is still below long-term averages. Regarding the primary market, monthly new issuance continued its trend of active capital markets in a period of strong performance. Meanwhile, HY funds reported a monthly inflow worth $2.3 billion in June, continuing the positive trend from both April and May.
- Overall Contributors: Ratings-quality tilt contributed to fund performance during the quarter, followed by industry allocations.
- Overall Detractors: Security selection detracted from absolute fund results.
- Outlook: We believe that yields and sub-par dollar prices remain attractive, while spreads remain at levels that are fair (but not compelling), in our view.

Performance Review

- Ratings-Quality Tilt: The portfolio's ratings-quality tilt contributed to performance during the quarter, primarily favoring Ca and B rated bonds. Baa and Caa rated bonds curbed performance.
- Industry Allocations: Underweighted exposure to the media cable and supermarkets sectors boosted returns during the period, as did the fund's overweighted allocation to the finance sector. However, underweighted exposure to the retailers and consumer cyclical services sectors dampened results.
- Security Selection: Selections in the media non cable, health care, industrials and finance sectors detracted from fund performance during the period. However, security selection in the building and packaging sectors lifted returns.

Outlook

- We have seen corporate fundamentals remain resilient through the first half of the year and technicals in the HY market have also been supportive. We expect these trends to persist, but with potential bouts of volatility surrounding the implementation of President Donald Trump's policies and increased geopolitical tensions.
- From a valuation standpoint, spreads remain rich historically but are appropriate given the low default environment supported by wide open capital markets, though recently have widened. The Fed has held rates steady thus far this year, and we expect them to remain data dependent in their approach moving forward.
- We remain focused on industry and company fundamentals, the health of balance sheets, generation and use of free cash flow, the resiliency of credits to slower economic growth and continue to be cautious on deeply distressed names.
- The US HY default rate (including distressed exchanges) increased in June, but remains below long-term averages, ending the month at 2.67%. Technicals remain solid, with strong demand and consistent new issues. We believe that yields and sub-par dollar prices remain attractive, while spreads remain at levels that are fair (but not compelling), in our view. Risks to our outlook include higher-than-expected inflation, policy missteps, a more severe slowdown or recession and/or heightened geopolitical tensions.

Performance data quoted represents past performance, which does not guarantee future results. *Current performance may be lower or higher than the figures shown. Principal value and investment returns will fluctuate, and investors' shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Performance would have been lower if fees had not been waived in various periods. Total returns assume the reinvestment of all distributions and the deduction of all fund expenses. Returns with sales charge reflect a deduction of the stated maximum sales charge. An investor cannot invest directly in an index, and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charges. Returns for periods of less than one year are not annualized. The fund began offering Advisor Class shares on 12/31/1996 and the fund began offering A Class shares on 9/10/2018. Performance quotations have been calculated as follows: (a) for Advisor Class periods prior to 12/31/1996, a restated figure is used based on the fund's Class A1 performance; for A Class periods prior to 9/10/2018, a restated figure is used based on the fund's Class A1 performance. The performance was adjusted to take into account differences in class-specific operating expenses and maximum sales charges. (b) For periods after share class offering, performance for the specific share class is used, reflecting the expenses and maximum sales charges applicable to that class.

Gross expenses are the fund's total annual operating expenses as of the fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. Actual expenses may be higher and may impact portfolio returns. Net expenses reflect contractual fee waivers, expense caps and/or reimbursements, which cannot be terminated prior to 01/31/2027 without Board consent. Additional amounts may be voluntarily waived and/or reimbursed and may be modified or discontinued at any time without notice.

What are the Risks?

All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal. Low-rated, high-yield bonds are subject to greater price volatility, illiquidity and possibility of default. Changes in the credit rating of a bond, or in the credit rating or financial strength of a bond's issuer, insurer or guarantor, may affect the bond's value. Fixed income securities involve interest rate, credit, inflation and reinvestment risks, and possible loss of principal. As interest rates rise, the value of fixed income securities falls. International investments are subject to special risks, including currency fluctuations and social, economic and political uncertainties, which could increase volatility. These risks are magnified in emerging markets. The manager may consider environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria in the research or investment process; however, ESG considerations may not be a determinative factor in security selection. In addition, the manager may not assess every investment for ESG criteria, and not every ESG factor may be identified or evaluated. These and other risks are discussed in the fund's prospectus.

The 30-day SEC yield is calculated using the net income (interest and dividends) per share earned over a trailing 30-day period (annualized), divided by the fund's share price at the end of that period. It may not equal the fund's actual income distribution rate, which reflects the fund's past dividends paid to shareholders.

Morningstar Rating™: Source: Morningstar®, 06/30/2026. For each mutual fund and ETF with at least a 3-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on how a fund ranks on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure against other funds in the same category. This measure takes into account variations in a fund's monthly performance, and does not take into account the effects of sales charges and loads, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The weights are: 100% 3-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% 5-year rating/40% 3-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% 5-year rating/20% 3-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent 3-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. The fund's Advisor Class shares received a Morningstar Rating of 4, 4 and 5 and fund's Class A shares received a Morningstar Rating of 4, 4 and 4 star(s) for the 3-, 5- and 10-year periods, respectively. Franklin Templeton provides this fund's Morningstar Rating™ for Advisor Class and Class A shares only. Other share classes may have different Morningstar ratings.
