ClearBridge ESG Portfolios

March 2022 | Separately Managed Accounts (SMAs)

Our Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) investment program offers you the option of having your portfolios reflect your values. By applying ESG integration, active company engagement and shareholder advocacy to ClearBridge Investments' strategies, you can earn returns on your investments while helping to make the world a better place.¹

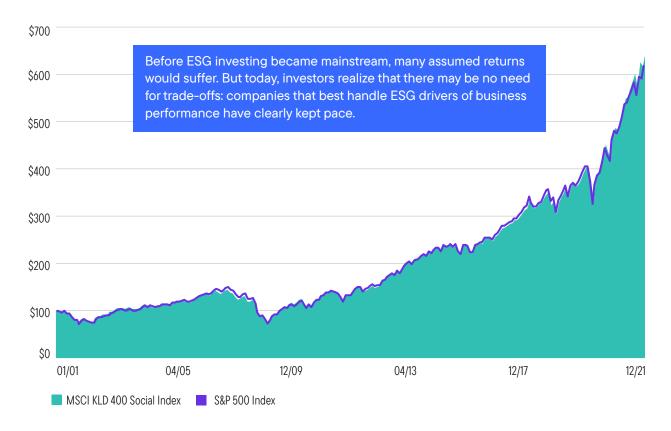

Pursue financial return & social good

ClearBridge believes that investors shouldn't have to choose between their values and investment performance.

That's why ClearBridge's ESG investment program favors companies that promote best practices when it comes to the environment, social issues and corporate governance. ClearBridge believes the ways in which companies integrate these issues into their operations can potentially impact competitive opportunities and growth potential — and ultimately drive stock prices.

Investors concerned with ESG issues generally haven't sacrificed investment returns Growth of $100.

ESG stocks are represented by the MSCI KLD 400 Social Index, and the broad stock market is represented by the S&P 500 Index. Indexes are unmanaged, and not available for direct investment. Index returns do no include fees or sales charges. This information is provided for illustrative purposes only.

The MSCI KLD 400 Social Index comprises companies with high Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) ratings and excludes companies involved in Alcohol, Gambling, Tobacco, Military Weapons, Civilian Firearms, Nuclear Power, Adult Entertainment, and Genetically Modified Organisms (GMO). The Index aims to serve as a benchmark for investors whose objectives include owning companies with very high ESG ratings and avoiding companies that are incompatible with specific values-based criteria. The S&P 500 Index is a capitalization-weighted, composite index of 500 stocks designed to measure the performance of the broad domestic economy through changes in the aggregate market value of 500 stocks representing all major industries. An investor cannot invest directly in an index. Unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charges.

An Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) investment strategy may limit the types and number of investment opportunities available to the portfolio and, as a result, may underperform strategies that are not subject to such criteria.

The ESG influence

The ClearBridge ESG Investment program takes a different investment approach from most of its peers. For instance, ClearBridge doesn't look solely at ESG factors to determine which companies go into the portfolio. Instead, ESG factors help shape conviction, influencing whether a particular company should be held, for how long and at what position size.

ClearBridge's ESG strategies include the following portfolios, managed by their existing portfolio teams:

All Cap Growth	International Growth ADR	Multi Cap Growth
All Cap Value	International Value ADR	Sustainability Leaders
Appreciation	Large Cap Growth
Dividend Strategy	Large Cap Value

Environmental, social and governance factors

Environment, health & safety

Includes regulatory compliance, occupational/ workplace safety, environmental footprint, eco-efficiency, product safety, pollution prevention and life-cycle analysis.

Workplace

Covers workforce diversity, work/life balance, employee retention and training, employee benefits and compensation, labor relations, outsourcing and foreign sourcing.

Community

Consists of human rights responsiveness, license to operate, impact to community, volunteerism, mission-related philanthropy and public policy engagement.

Corporate governance

Considers such issues as management structure, board composition guidelines, transparency and disclosure.

The manager's investment style may become out of favor and/or the manager's selection process may prove incorrect, which may have a negative impact on the Portfolios' performance.

The ClearBridge ESG difference

ClearBridge Investments is a pioneer in ESG investing. Having established an ESG investment program in 1987, the firm was among the first – and largest – mainstream investment managers to commit to ESG investing.

When it comes to ESG investing, ClearBridge is structured to make a difference on your behalf.

- Analyst-driven, ESG-focused meetings directly with portfolio companies
- ESG principles integrated firm-wide, not just within an ESG investment team
- Active participation in prominent ESG member networks, such as the Principles for Responsible Investing and the Forum for Sustainable and Responsible Investment

ClearBridge takes a broad view of ESG investing. Here's what sets it apart:

Company engagement

Advocacy via active proxy voting and engagement with company management. As high-conviction investors who own companies for the long haul, ClearBridge is positioned to try to guide and influence company management on issues related to ESG.

Proprietary rating system

Every company within the ClearBridge research universe receives a rating intended to signal to investment teams how well a company has executed against ESG practices. ClearBridge analysts assign companies one of four proprietary ESG ratings, ranging from AAA (highest) to B (lowest), based on company performance/behavior and a comparison with industry peers.

Fully integrated process

ESG evaluation is not a separate process at ClearBridge. In fact, their fundamental research process incorporates ESG perspectives that go well beyond traditional passive negative screens and overlays.

More than an afterthought

Rather than select stocks purely on ESG characteristics, the Portfolios put the investment thesis first. Using integrated ESG research – as opposed to relying on third-party lists – the Portfolios look well beyond winnowing the stock universe.

ClearBridge's proprietary ESG evaluation process is integrated into the stock selection for each style

and ESG

Relying primarily on research from sector and portfolio analysts on the ClearBridge Fundamental Research platform – as well as sell-side and independent research firms – the Portfolios typically invest in a broad selection of industries and engage in active proxy voting.

		Primary objective:	Designed for investors seeking:
active share	All Cap Value ²	Focuses on large-, medium- and small-cap stocks whose prices appear attractive in relation to their underlying fundamentals.	A core value portfolio, with the ability to invest in all market capitalizations.
	All Cap Growth	Targets a diversified portfolio of large-, medium- and small-cap stocks with above average long-term growth potential.	A strategy that taps into the insights of four seasoned portfolio managers to actively pursue growth across market capitalizations.
	Large Cap Growth ²	Seeks high-quality, large-cap stocks that provide potential for solid long-term performance.	A distinctive, style-pure growth strategy that uses fundamental research to invest in industry leaders.
	Multi Cap Growth	Uses a concentrated approach to invest in growth stocks with the potential for above average long-term earnings and/or cash flow growth.	A concentrated, benchmark-agnostic approach to complement core or passive equity strategies.
	International Growth ADR	Invests in ADRs of well-managed businesses whose intrinsic value does not appear to be recognized by the markets.	Core exposure to international developed markets, with low turnover.
	International Value ADR	Invests in ADRs of quality international companies that are mispriced relative to their dynamic intrinsic value.	Diversification among developed and emerging markets across all market sectors and capitalizations.
	Sustainability Leaders	Seeks long-term growth of capital by investing in high- quality companies with attractive sustainability profiles.	To pursue financial return while making a positive impact on the world.
Income solutions	Dividend Strategy	Invests primarily in dividend-paying stocks that offer the potential for income growth and capital appreciation over time.	A portfolio whose income may rise over time as companies raise dividends, which may help investors meet long-term financial goals.
Low volatility	Appreciation	Invests in a diversified portfolio of growth and value stocks, mainly consisting of large-cap, blue-chip companies.	The potential for long-term growth of capital, without assuming unnecessary risk.
	Large Cap Value ²	Seeks large-cap stocks whose market prices are attractive in relation to their underlying fundamentals.	High-quality large-cap companies trading at attractive valuations.

WHAT SHOULD I KNOW BEFORE INVESTING?

All investments involve risk, including loss of principal, and there is no guarantee that investment objectives will be met.

In addition to investments in large-capitalization companies, investments may be made in speculative and/or small-cap and mid-cap companies, which involve a higher degree of risk and volatility than investments in larger, more established companies. The investments may be concentrated in a limited number of industries and issuers.

The managers may sometimes hold significant portions of portfolio assets in cash equivalents while waiting for buying opportunities.

Limited investments also may be made in non-dividend-paying stocks that are not expected to pay a dividend in the near future.

Certain limits on the amount of investment in any one company may cause individual investment portfolios to vary from each other and thus the performance results of such portfolios may also vary from each other, particularly when combined with the price volatility of stocks in such portfolios. The managers may sometimes hold significant portions of portfolio assets in cash equivalents while waiting for buying opportunities.

The managers may invest the portfolios primarily in ADRs, but may also make limited investments in U.S.-traded stocks of non-U.S. and U.S. companies engaged in significant non-U.S. business. These limited investments may include U.S.-traded stocks that result from the conversion of ADRs, as well as other U.S.-traded stocks.

While most investments are in U.S. companies, investments may also be made in ADRs and other securities of non-U.S. companies in developed and emerging markets which involve risks in addition to those ordinarily associated with investing in domestic securities, including the potentially negative effects of currency fluctuation, political and economic developments, foreign taxation and differences in auditing and other financial standards. These risks are magnified in emerging markets.

ADRs are U.S. traded securities that represent shares of a foreign-based corporation held by a custodian and they entitle the shareholder to all dividends, net of any applicable local withholding taxes, and capital gains that would be paid on the company's ordinary shares.

The managers' environmental social and governance (ESG) investment strategies may limit the types and number of investment opportunities available and, as a result, may underperform strategies that are not subject to such criteria.

Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against market loss.

Clients can also request customized screens to meet the needs of specific religious faiths or to address a client's sensitivity in a particular issue area, such as animal experimentation. All custom screens are subject to pre-approval by the portfolio manager.

The program manager(s) may, to a limited extent, invest in other securities entailing additional risks beyond those highlighted in this presentation.

Impact investing and/or Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) managers may take into consideration factors beyond traditional financial information to select securities, which could result in relative investment performance deviating from other strategies or broad market benchmarks, depending on whether such sectors or investments are in or out of favor in the market. Further, ESG strategies may rely on certain values based criteria to eliminate exposures found in similar strategies or broad market benchmarks, which could also result in relative investment performance deviating.

Any information, statement or opinion set forth herein is general in nature, is not directed to or based on the financial situation or needs of any particular investor, and does not constitute, and should not be construed as, investment advice, forecast of future events, a guarantee of future results, or a recommendation with respect to any particular security or investment strategy or type of retirement account. Investors seeking financial advice regarding the appropriateness of investing in any securities or investment strategies should consult their financial professional.

Separately Managed Accounts (SMAs) are investment services provided by either Legg Mason Private Portfolio Group, LLC (LMPPG) or Franklin Templeton Portfolio Advisors, Inc.
