Funds' Overview

Q. What were the overall market conditions during the Fund's reporting period?

A. U.S. equities, as measured by the Standard & Poor's® 500 Index, posted a +22.66% total return for the 12-month period ended April 30, 2024. Inflation slowed amid higher interest rates, while the economy's continued strength helped drive equity gains and alleviated concerns about a recession. Technology-related stocks in particular helped support equity prices amid cost-cutting efforts and investor optimism that artificial intelligence (AI) would lead to strong growth opportunities, particularly for the manufacturers of microchips that power new AI applications.

The U.S. economy was strong, posting solid gross domestic product (GDP) annual growth in the final three guarters of 2023. However, the expansion slowed in the first quarter of 2024 amid slower growth in consumer spending, exports, and state and local government spending, as well as a decline in federal government spending. Despite a deceleration in the first quarter, consumer spending continued to power the economy, helped by higher asset prices and increased wages. The labor market remained tight but showed some signs of easing. Unemployment increased slightly while remaining low by historical standards, and wages continued to grow, albeit at a slower pace. Inflation generally cooled, although the Consumer Price Index (CPI) remained at or above 3% for the period. Improving economic conditions bolstered consumer confidence, but sentiment remained well below prepandemic levels. Higher interest rates during the 12-month period meant elevated borrowing costs for individuals and businesses, which dampened some economic activity. especially in the housing market.

The U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) shifted its monetary policy, moving from a tightening stance early in the 12 months under review to a more neutral policy as the period continued and inflation generally decelerated. The Fed raised the federal funds target rate twice, ending the period at a range of 5.25%–5.50% and pushing short-term interest rates to their highest levels in more than two decades. However, the Fed stopped raising rates following its July 2023 meeting, signaling that the post-pandemic tightening cycle was concluding. Nonetheless, the Fed indicated following its April 30–May 1, 2024, meeting that it would continue to reduce its U.S. Treasury (UST) and agency debt and mortgage-backed security holdings. The strong economy and persistent inflation led investors to lower their expectations for interest rates in the near future.

Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund

Fund Overview

Q. What is the Fund's investment strategy?

A. The Fund seeks capital appreciation. We use fundamental, bottom-up research to seek companies meeting our criteria of growth potential, quality and valuation. In seeking sustainable growth characteristics, we look for companies we believe can produce sustainable earnings and cash flow growth, evaluating the long-term market opportunity and competitive structure of an industry. We define quality companies as those with strong and improving competitive positions in attractive markets. We also believe important attributes of quality are experienced and talented management teams as well as financial strength reflected in the capital structure, gross and operating margins, free cash flow generation and returns on capital employed. Our valuation analysis includes a range of potential outcomes based on an assessment of multiple scenarios. In assessing value, we consider whether security prices fully reflect the balance of the sustainable growth opportunities relative to business and financial risks.

Q. How did we respond to these changing market conditions?

A. As active managers, we look for opportunities in areas of the market where growth is often not appreciated. Small- and mid-cap companies along with much of the broader market have not participated in the market rally and are attractive on a relative valuation basis. During the year, we continued to focus on high-quality, sustainable-growth franchises that we believe are well positioned to benefit in the coming years. The Fund has a high conviction strategy focused on investing in the leading U.S. growth companies across the market cap spectrum. Many of our investments are poised to benefit from multi-year secular growth themes such as digital transformation, health care innovation and generative AI.

Performance Overview

The Fund's Class A shares posted a +33.49% cumulative total return for the 12 months under review. In comparison, the Fund's narrow benchmark, the Russell 3000® Growth Index, which measures the performance of those Russell 3000® Index companies with relatively higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth rates, posted a +30.75% cumulative total return. The Fund's broad benchmark, the Standard & Poor's® 500 Index (S&P 500®), which tracks the broad U.S. stock market, posted a +22.66% cumulative total return.¹ You can find the Fund's long-term performance data in the Performance Summary beginning on page 6.

Q. What were the leading contributors to performance?

A. The Fund saw the largest relative contributions from the consumer discretionary and information technology (IT) sectors. Consumer discretionary performance was driven by a position in Wingstop, as strong restaurant traffic, digital leadership, growing brand awareness and improved supplychain management have all boosted profit margins for the fast-food operator and franchiser. The IT sector was helped by an underweight in Apple and a position in Crowdstrike Holdings. Our limited exposure to Apple versus the benchmark proved positive for relative returns. Decelerating iPad and wearables sales, along with China headwinds, have been a drag on revenue and weighed on the shares of the tech giant. Technology stocks, in general, drove the markets higher with the promise of AI increasing productivity for businesses across multiple sectors. The integration of AI by cybersecurity firm Crowdstrike Holdings has been positive for its business. Elsewhere, in the communication services sector, the shares of Facebook-parent Meta Platforms were up over the period. The company has taken to managing its expenses aggressively and saw improved user engagement.

Q. What were the leading detractors from performance?

A. Our results versus the index were hindered primarily by stock selection and overweighting in the financials and real estate sectors. In the real estate sector, SBA Communications was the biggest detractor for the period. Slower carrier spending and a deceleration in U.S. tower leasing weighed on the shares of the wireless tower operator. An underweight in Alphabet was a relative detractor in the communication services sector as shares of the company rallied to new highs, helped by its successful digital advertising business and expanded AI capabilities. Inflation pressures weighed on consumer demand for energy drink maker Monster Beverage in the consumer staples sector. Among the bottom five detractors was chipmaker Lattice Semiconductor in the IT sector. Softness in the industrials and automotive sectors, due to inflation, has been pressuring demand for its programmable chips.

Q. Were there any significant changes to the Fund during the reporting period?

A. Over the course of the year, we have actively been reducing exposure to many strong performing holdings in the IT sector and redeploying that cash into opportunities in the health care and industrials sectors. The health care sector offers an attractive combination of exposure to multiyear secular growth and innovation while also possessing high-quality characteristics. The industrials sector is in the earlier stages of its digital transformation journey and category leaders are poised to benefit over the long term. Despite actively taking profits in the IT sector, it remains our largest sector allocation in the Fund and our outlook remains positive.

Thank you for your continued participation in Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund. We look forward to serving your future investment needs.

Performance Summary as of April 30, 2024

The performance table and graphs do not reflect any taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund dividends, capital gain distributions, if any, or any realized gains on the sale of Fund shares. Total return reflects reinvestment of the Fund's dividends and capital gain distributions, if any, and any unrealized gains or losses. Your dividend income will vary depending on dividends or interest paid by securities in the Fund's portfolio, adjusted for operating expenses of each class. Capital gain distributions are net profits realized from the sale of portfolio securities.

Performance as of 4/30/241

Cumulative total return excludes sales charges. Average annual total return includes maximum sales charges. Sales charges will vary depending on the size of the investment and the class of share purchased. The maximum is 5.50% and the minimum is 0%. Class A: 5.50% maximum initial sales charge; Advisor Class: no sales charges. For other share classes, visit franklintempleton.com.

Each class of shares is available to certain eligible investors and has different annual fees and expenses, as described in the prospectus.

Events such as the spread of deadly diseases, disasters, and financial, political or social disruptions, may heighten risks and adversely affect performance.

All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal. The investment style may become out of favor, which may have a negative impact on performance. To the extent the portfolio invests in a concentration of certain securities, regions or industries, it is subject to increased volatility. Small- and mid-cap stocks involve greater risks and volatility than large-cap stocks. The manager may consider environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria in the research or investment process; however, ESG considerations may not be a determinative factor in security selection. In addition, the manager may not assess every investment for ESG criteria, and not every ESG factor may be identified or evaluated. These and other risks are discussed in the Fund's prospectus.

- 1. Gross expenses are the Fund's total annual operating expenses as of the Fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. Actual expenses may be higher and may impact portfolio returns. Net expenses reflect contractual fee waivers, expense caps and/or reimbursements, which cannot be terminated prior to 8/31/24 without Board consent. Additional amounts may be voluntarily waived and/or reimbursed and may be modified or discontinued at any time without notice.
- 2. Cumulative total return represents the change in value of an investment over the periods indicated.
- 3. Average annual total return represents the average annual change in value of an investment over the periods indicated. Return for less than one year, if any, has not been annualized.
- 4. Prior to 9/10/18, these shares were offered at a higher initial sales charge of 5.75%, thus actual returns (with sales charges) would have differed. Average annual total returns (with sales charges) have been restated to reflect the current maximum initial sales charge of 5.50%.
- 5. Source: FactSet. The Russell 3000® Growth Index is market capitalization weighted and measures performance of those Russell 3000® Index companies with relatively higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth rates. The S&P 500® is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 stocks designed to measure total U.S. equity market performance.
- 6. Figures are as stated in the Fund's current prospectus and may differ from the expense ratios disclosed in the Your Fund's Expenses and Financial Highlights sections in this report. In periods of market volatility, assets may decline significantly, causing total annual Fund operating expenses to become higher than the figures shown. Important data provider notices and terms available at www.franklintempletondatasources.com.

Your Fund's Expenses

As a Fund shareholder, you can incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on Fund purchases and redemptions; and (2) ongoing Fund costs, including management fees, distribution and service (12b-1) fees, and other Fund expenses. All mutual funds have ongoing costs, sometimes referred to as operating expenses. The table below shows ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and can help you understand these costs and compare them with those of other mutual funds. The table assumes a $1,000 investment held for the six months indicated.

Actual Fund Expenses

The table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses in the columns under the heading "Actual." In these columns the Fund's actual return, which includes the effect of Fund expenses, is used to calculate the "Ending Account Value" for each class of shares. You can estimate the expenses you paid during the period by following these steps (of course, your account value and expenses will differ from those in this illustration): Divide your account value by 1,000 (if your account had an 8,600 value, then $8,600 \div 1,000 = 8.6$). Then multiply the result by the number in the row for your class of shares under the headings "Actual" and "Expenses Paid During Period" (if Actual Expenses Paid During Period were 7.50, then $8.6 \times 7.50 = 64.50$). In this illustration, the actual expenses paid this period are 64.50.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison with Other Funds

Under the heading "Hypothetical" in the table, information is provided about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. This information may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period, but it can help you compare ongoing costs of investing in the Fund with those of other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example for the class of shares you hold with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight ongoing costs and do not reflect any transactional costs. Therefore, information under the heading "Hypothetical" is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you compare total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if transactional costs were included, your total costs would have been higher.

		Actual (actual return after expenses)		Hypothetical (5% annual return before expenses)
 Share Class	Beginning Account Value 11/1/23	Ending Account Value 4/30/24	Expenses Paid During Period 11/1/23-4/30/24 ^{1,2}	Ending Account Value 4/30/24	Expenses Paid During Period 11/1/23–4/30/24 ^{1,2}	Net Annualized Expense Ratio ²

Advisor	$1,000	$1,277.00	$3.73	$1,021.59	$3.31	0.66%

^{1.} Expenses are equal to the annualized expense ratio for the six-month period as indicated above—in the far right column—multiplied by the simple average account value over the period indicated, and then multiplied by 182/366 to reflect the one-half year period.

^{2.} Reflects expenses after fee waivers and expense reimbursements. Does not include acquired fund fees and expenses.

Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund

Fund Overview

Q. What is the Fund's investment strategy?

A. The Fund seeks long-term capital growth. We use fundamental, bottom-up research to seek companies meeting our criteria of growth potential, quality and valuation. In seeking sustainable growth characteristics, we look for companies we believe can produce sustainable earnings and cash flow growth, evaluating the long-term market opportunity and competitive structure of an industry. We define quality companies as those with strong and improving competitive positions in attractive markets. We also believe important attributes of quality are experienced and talented management teams as well as financial strength reflected in the capital structure, gross and operating margins, free cash flow generation and returns on capital employed. Our valuation analysis includes a range of potential outcomes based on an assessment of multiple scenarios. In assessing value, we consider whether security prices fully reflect the balance of the sustainable growth opportunities relative to business and financial risks.

Q. How did we respond to these changing market conditions?

A. Amid market conditions, we continue to look to increase the quality of the portfolio and reduce duration somewhat. Our positioning reflects a more constructive view of the longterm backdrop than what we believe is reflected in stock prices. Our ability to generate alpha rests with our efforts to think and act in a long-term manner while the market often focuses and reacts to short-term issues. One of the challenges of investing in smaller companies is business models have not always evolved to a point where assessing quality is easy. It often requires looking ahead several years to determine profitability and return metrics. This presents an opportunity as our long-term approach allows us to ignore short-term noise that often causes volatility in stock prices. In fact, to the extent that this volatility creates an attractive price disconnect, we look to take advantage to initiate or add to positions.

Q. What were the leading contributors to performance?

A. The Fund's relative performance was led by the health care sector, which benefited from a position in Eyepoint Pharmaceuticals. The shares of the eye-focused biopharmaceutical company soared following positive clinical data for a macular degeneration treatment. Stock selection in the consumer discretionary sector also proved positive for relative returns. The shares of fast casual restaurant chain Wingstop—a top contributor over the period—led the sector higher. Strong restaurant traffic, digital leadership, growing brand awareness and improved supply-chain management have all increased profit margins for the company. A position in Paymentus Holdings bolstered relative performance in the financials sector. The bill payment services company has been benefiting from higher transaction volumes and an upbeat sales environment. Results in the information technology (IT) sector were boosted by chipmaking equipment company Onto Innovation, which provides the chips needed for increasingly complex AI functioning.

Q. What were the leading detractors from performance?

A. Real estate, IT and industrials were relative detractors at the sector level largely due to stock selection. In the industrials sector, shares of Allegiant Travel Company underperformed as the company faced declines in passenger traffic. While the health care sector was a leading contributor to relative returns, positions in cosmetic pharmaceutical company Revance Therapeutics and biopharmaceutical company PTC Therapeutics (not held at period-end) were among the Fund's bottom five detractors. Both companies struggled with delayed product launches and drug approval setbacks, respectively. In the financials sector, payment platform Flywire faced slowing growth and foreign exchange headwinds, which pressured its stock.

Q. Were there any significant changes to the Fund during the reporting period?

A. Portfolio turnover remains modest. We continued to look to increase quality and reduce duration somewhat. The biggest changes to the Fund over the past 12 months were the addition of HashiCorp and NCino to the IT sector: ZoomInfo to the communication services sector; and Alaska Air to the industrials sector. Each of these additions were on the back of stock weakness, which is typical for our strategy. We also increased an already existing position in Silicon Labs (IT) in the portfolio.

In contrast, notable sales were M/I Homes in the consumer discretionary sector; Masonite (not held at period-end) and Univar (not held at period-end) in the industrials sector; RayzeBio in the health care sector; and Hostess Brands (not held at period-end) in the consumer staples sector. All but M/I homes were acquired during the period. We also reduced our investment in Tri Pointe Homes in the consumer discretionary sector and lessened our exposure to homebuilders in general as stock prices have rebounded from depressed levels and now prices better reflect our estimate of intrinsic value. Share price strength or opportunities to focus on higher conviction companies are usually what motivate us to sell.

Looking ahead, we remain optimistic about the long-term prospects of our investments and the opportunities for growth in their respective markets. We believe that our disciplined approach of investing in high-quality, durable businesses with strong competitive advantages and attractive valuations will continue to deliver superior risk-adjusted returns over time. As always, we appreciate your trust and support as we navigate this dynamic and challenging environment.

Thank you for your continued participation in Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund. We look forward to serving your future investment needs.

Total Return Index Comparison for a Hypothetical $10,000 Investment¹

Total return represents the change in value of an investment over the periods shown. It includes any applicable maximum sales charge, Fund expenses, account fees and reinvested distributions. The unmanaged indexes include reinvestment of any income or distributions. They differ from the Fund in composition and do not pay management fees or expenses. One cannot invest directly in an index.

Each class of shares is available to certain eligible investors and has different annual fees and expenses, as described in the prospectus.

Events such as the spread of deadly diseases, disasters, and financial, political or social disruptions, may heighten risks and adversely affect performance.

All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal. Small- and mid-cap stocks involve greater risks and volatility than large-cap stocks. The investment style may become out of favor, which may have a negative impact on performance. To the extent the portfolio invests in a concentration of certain securities, regions or industries, it is subject to increased volatility. Liquidity risk exists when securities or other investments become more difficult to sell, or are unable to be sold, at the price at which they have been valued. The manager may consider environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria in the research or investment process; however, ESG considerations may not be a determinative factor in security selection. In addition, the manager may not assess every investment for ESG criteria, and not every ESG factor may be identified or evaluated. These and other risks are discussed in the Fund's prospectus.

- 1. Gross expenses are the Fund's total annual operating expenses as of the Fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. Actual expenses may be higher and may impact portfolio returns. Net expenses reflect contractual fee waivers, expense caps and/or reimbursements, which cannot be terminated prior to 8/31/24 without Board consent. Additional amounts may be voluntarily waived and/or reimbursed and may be modified or discontinued at any time without notice.
- 2. Cumulative total return represents the change in value of an investment over the periods indicated.
- 3. Average annual total return represents the average annual change in value of an investment over the periods indicated. Return for less than one year, if any, has not been annualized
- 4. Prior to 9/10/18, these shares were offered at a higher initial sales charge of 5.75%, thus actual returns (with sales charges) would have differed. Average annual total returns (with sales charges) have been restated to reflect the current maximum initial sales charge of 5.50%.

The Russell 2000® Growth Index is market capitalization weighted and measures performance of those Russell 2000® Index companies with relatively higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth rates. The S&P 500® is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 stocks designed to measure total U.S. equity market performance.
- 6. Figures are as stated in the Fund's current prospectus and may differ from the expense ratios disclosed in the Your Fund's Expenses and Financial Highlights sections in this report. In periods of market volatility, assets may decline significantly, causing total annual Fund operating expenses to become higher than the figures shown. Your Fund's Expenses

As a Fund shareholder, you can incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on Fund purchases and redemptions; and (2) ongoing Fund costs, including management fees, distribution and service (12b-1) fees, and other Fund expenses. All mutual funds have ongoing costs, sometimes referred to as operating expenses. The table below shows ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and can help you understand these costs and compare them with those of other mutual funds. The table assumes a $1,000 investment held for the six months indicated.

The table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses in the columns under the heading "Actual." In these columns the Fund's actual return, which includes the effect of Fund expenses, is used to calculate the "Ending Account Value" for each class of shares. You can estimate the expenses you paid during the period by following these steps (of course, your account value and expenses will differ from those in this illustration): Divide your account value by 1,000 (if your account had an 8,600 value, then $8,600 \div 1,000 = 8.6$). Then multiply the result by the number in the row for your class of shares under the headings "Actual" and "Expenses Paid During Period" (if Actual Expenses Paid During Period were 7.50, then $8.6 \times 7.50 = 64.50$). In this illustration, the actual expenses paid this period are 64.50.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison with Other Funds

Under the heading "Hypothetical" in the table, information is provided about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. This information may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period, but it can help you compare ongoing costs of investing in the Fund with those of other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example for the class of shares you hold with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight ongoing costs and do not reflect any transactional costs. Therefore, information under the heading "Hypothetical" is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you compare total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if transactional costs were included, your total costs would have been higher.

Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund

Fund Overview

Q. What is the Fund's investment strategy?

A. The Fund seeks long-term capital growth. We use fundamental, bottom-up research to seek companies meeting our criteria of growth potential, quality and valuation. In seeking sustainable growth characteristics, we look for companies we believe can produce sustainable earnings and cash flow growth, evaluating the long-term market opportunity and competitive structure of an industry. We define quality companies as those with strong and improving competitive positions in attractive markets. We also believe important attributes of quality are experienced and talented management teams as well as financial strength reflected in the capital structure, gross and operating margins, free cash flow generation and returns on capital employed. Our valuation analysis includes a range of potential outcomes based on an assessment of multiple scenarios. In assessing value, we consider whether security prices fully reflect the balance of the sustainable growth opportunities relative to business and financial risks.

Q. How did we respond to these changing market conditions?

A. Equity market volatility is inevitable. We patiently wait for markets to excessively punish or reward stocks relative to our view of fair value and then invest/divest opportunistically. We focus on companies growing faster than their peers; have superior profitability and cash flow; and have the ability to improve/scale up in the foreseeable future. We are patient, long-term growth investors. Through rigorous due diligence our analysts identify critical secular themes/ trends in each market sector. We then seek to identify the companies driving or benefiting from these trends and having a sustainable position/competitive advantage.

Performance Overview

The Fund's Class A shares posted a +18.39% cumulative total return for the 12 months under review. In comparison, the Russell Midcap® Growth Index, which measures the performance of those Russell Midcap® Index companies with relatively higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth rates, posted a +20.70% cumulative total return.¹ Also in comparison, the Standard & Poor's® 500 Index (S&P 500), which tracks the broad U.S. stock market, posted a +22.66% cumulative total return. You can find the Fund's long-term performance data in the Performance Summary beginning on page 20.

Q. What were the leading contributors to performance?

A. What benefited the Fund most over the period was stock selection in the information technology (IT) sector, which was boosted by our holdings in cloud networking company Arista Networks (not held at period-end) and cybersecurity firm Crowdstrike Holdings. Technology stocks, in general, drove the markets higher with the promise of artificial intelligence (AI) increasing productivity for businesses across multiple sectors. The integration of AI by these two companies has been good for their respective businesses. Strong stock selection in the consumer staples and industrials sectors further enhanced relative returns. Trane Technologies was a leading contributor in the industrials sector. The company provides heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) solutions to commercial and residential markets. Strength in sales, orders and backlog have been tailwinds for the company. Among standalone contributors was Wingstop in the consumer discretionary sector. Digital leadership, growing brand awareness and improved supply-chain management have been helping to drive earnings upside for the fast casual restaurant chain.

Q. What were the leading detractors from performance?

A. Real estate, health care and consumer discretionary were leading sector detractors over the period. SBA Communications was a drag on real estate sector performance as slower carrier spending and a deceleration in U.S. tower leasing weighed on the shares of wireless tower operator. In the health care sector, medical device manufacturer Penumbra had a dampening effect on results. The medical device manufacturer faced several headwinds, including delays on the launch of its neurovascular thrombectomy system; inventory reductions in advance of anticipated regulatory changes; and management discontinuing the sale of some unprofitable embolization products in markets outside the U.S. A deteriorating macro environment in China and continued caution among biopharma customers had a negative impact on several life science tools companies, including our investment in 10x Genomics, which also detracted in the health care sector. A position in Albemarle in the materials sector was the biggest individual detractor over the period. The shares of the chemical manufacturer were pressured by a drop in lithium prices due to low demand and high supply. Albemarle is a global leader in the production of lithium, which is a key ingredient of electric car batteries.

Q. Were there any significant changes to the Fund during the reporting period?

A. Over the period, we added two new names via initial public offerings of CG Oncology in the health care sector and Astera Labs (not held at period-end) in the IT sector. We also added Karuna Therapeutics (not held at period-end) to the health care sector, which received an acquisition offer from Bristol-Myers Squibb shortly after, boosting its stock price.

In terms of notable weighting changes, our industrial sector exposure significantly increased due to performance. It is the one sector where we had net additions to the number of positions—Axon Enterprise, Xylem, United Rentals and Verisk Analytics—in a significant upgrade to quality. Our weighting was also up in the financials sector where we opened new positions in Block, Blue Owl Capital and Arthur J. Gallagher & Co., and increased weightings in Aerius International (not held at period-end), LPL Financial Holdings and Nasdaq. Exposure to the communication services sector grew as we initiated a position in The New York Times Company and increased existing allocations to Pinterest and Roblox. Both our consumer staples and IT sectors weightings increased due to performance.

Our desire to further concentrate the portfolio into fewer, high-conviction growth stocks led to a meaningful reduction in the consumer discretionary sector as many stocks had done quite well in the face of a looming recession. We exited Levi Strauss & Co., Chipotle Mexican Grill, Vail Resorts, AutoZone and Petco Health and Wellness Company. Merger and acquisition activity decreased our exposure to the health care sector. Elsewhere, weightings in the remaining energy, materials and real estate sector stayed the same or decreased slightly.

Thank you for your continued participation in Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund. We look forward to serving your future investment needs.

Performance Summary as of April 30, 2024

The performance table and graphs do not reflect any taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund dividends, capital gain distributions, if any, or any realized gains on the sale of Fund shares. Total return reflects reinvestment of the Fund's dividends and capital gain distributions, if any, and any unrealized gains or losses. Your dividend income will vary depending on dividends or interest paid by securities in the Fund's portfolio, adjusted for operating expenses of each class. Capital gain distributions are net profits realized from the sale of portfolio securities.

Performance as of 4/30/241

Cumulative total return excludes sales charges. Average annual total return includes maximum sales charges. Sales charges will vary depending on the size of the investment and the class of share purchased. The maximum is 5.50% and the minimum is 0%. Class A: 5.50% maximum initial sales charge; Advisor Class: no sales charges. For other share classes, visit franklintempleton.com.

Your Fund's Expenses

As a Fund shareholder, you can incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on Fund purchases and redemptions; and (2) ongoing Fund costs, including management fees, distribution and service (12b-1) fees, and other Fund expenses. All mutual funds have ongoing costs, sometimes referred to as operating expenses. The table below shows ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and can help you understand these costs and compare them with those of other mutual funds. The table assumes a $1,000 investment held for the six months indicated.

Actual Fund Expenses

The table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses in the columns under the heading "Actual." In these columns the Fund's actual return, which includes the effect of Fund expenses, is used to calculate the "Ending Account Value" for each class of shares. You can estimate the expenses you paid during the period by following these steps (of course, your account value and expenses will differ from those in this illustration): Divide your account value by 1,000 (if your account had an 8,600 value, then $8,600 \div 1,000 = 8.6$). Then multiply the result by the number in the row for your class of shares under the headings "Actual" and "Expenses Paid During Period" (if Actual Expenses Paid During Period were 7.50, then $8.6 \times 7.50 = 64.50$). In this illustration, the actual expenses paid this period are 64.50.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison with Other Funds

Under the heading "Hypothetical" in the table, information is provided about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. This information may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period, but it can help you compare ongoing costs of investing in the Fund with those of other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example for the class of shares you hold with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight ongoing costs and do not reflect any transactional costs. Therefore, information under the heading "Hypothetical" is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you compare total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if transactional costs were included, your total costs would have been higher.

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Franklin Strategic Series (Trust) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act) as an openend management investment company, consisting of ten separate funds, three of which are included in this report (Funds). The Funds follow the accounting and reporting quidance in Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946, Financial Services - Investment Companies (ASC 946) and apply the specialized accounting and reporting guidance in U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (U.S. GAAP), including, but not limited to, ASC 946. The Funds offer five classes of shares: Class A, Class C, Class R, Class R6 and Advisor Class. Class C shares automatically convert to Class A shares on a monthly basis, after they have been held for 8 years. Each class of shares may differ by its initial sales load, contingent deferred sales charges, voting rights on matters affecting a single class, its exchange privilege and fees due to differing arrangements for distribution and transfer agent fees.

The following summarizes the Funds' significant accounting policies.

a. Financial Instrument Valuation

The Funds' investments in financial instruments are carried at fair value daily. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The Funds calculate the net asset value (NAV) per share each business day as of 4 p.m. Eastern time or the regularly scheduled close of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), whichever is earlier. Under compliance policies and procedures approved by the Trust's Board of Trustees (the Board), the Board has designated the Funds' investment manager as the valuation designee and has responsibility for oversight of valuation. The investment manager is assisted by the Funds' administrator in performing this responsibility, including leading the crossfunctional Valuation Committee (VC). The Funds may utilize independent pricing services, quotations from securities and financial instrument dealers, and other market sources to determine fair value.

Equity securities listed on an exchange or on the NASDAQ National Market System are valued at the last quoted sale price or the official closing price of the day, respectively. Foreign equity securities are valued as of the close of trading on the foreign stock exchange on which the security is primarily traded, or as of 4 p.m. Eastern time. The value is then converted into its U.S. dollar equivalent at the foreign exchange rate in effect at 4 p.m. Eastern time on the day that the value of the security is determined. Over-the-counter (OTC) securities are valued within the range of the most recent quoted bid and ask prices. Securities that trade in multiple markets or on multiple exchanges are valued according to the broadest and most representative market. Certain equity securities are valued based upon fundamental characteristics or relationships to similar securities.

Debt securities generally trade in the OTC market rather than on a securities exchange. The Funds' pricing services use multiple valuation techniques to determine fair value. In instances where sufficient market activity exists, the pricing services may utilize a market-based approach through which quotes from market makers are used to determine fair value. In instances where sufficient market activity may not exist or is limited, the pricing services also utilize proprietary valuation models which may consider market characteristics such as benchmark yield curves, credit spreads, estimated default rates, anticipated market interest rate volatility, coupon rates, anticipated timing of principal repayments, underlying collateral, and other unique security features in order to estimate the relevant cash flows, which are then discounted to calculate the fair value.

Investments in open-end mutual funds are valued at the closing NAV. Investments in repurchase agreements are valued at cost, which approximates fair value.

The Funds have procedures to determine the fair value of financial instruments for which market prices are not reliable or readily available. Under these procedures, the Funds primarily employ a market-based approach which may use related or comparable assets or liabilities, recent transactions, market multiples, and other relevant information for the investment to determine the fair value of the investment. An income-based valuation approach may also be used in which the anticipated future cash flows of the investment are discounted to calculate fair value. Discounts may also be applied due to the nature or duration of any restrictions on the disposition of the investments. Due to the inherent uncertainty of valuations of such investments, the fair values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had an active market existed.

Trading in securities on foreign securities stock exchanges and OTC markets may be completed before 4 p.m. Eastern time. In addition, trading in certain foreign markets may not take place on every Funds' business day. Events can occur between the time at which trading in a foreign security is completed and 4 p.m. Eastern time that might call into question the reliability of the value of a portfolio security held by the Fund. As a result, differences may arise between the value of the Funds' portfolio securities as determined at the foreign market close and the latest indications of value at 4 p.m. Eastern time. In order to minimize the potential for these differences, an independent pricing service may be used to adjust the value of the Funds' portfolio securities to the latest indications of fair value at 4 p.m. Eastern time.

When the last day of the reporting period is a non-business day, certain foreign markets may be open on those days that the Funds' NAV is not calculated, which could result in differences between the value of the Funds' portfolio securities on the last business day and the last calendar day of the reporting period. Any security valuation changes due to an open foreign market are adjusted and reflected by the Funds for financial reporting purposes.

b. Foreign Currency Translation

Portfolio securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars based on the exchange rate of such currencies against U.S. dollars on the date of valuation. The Funds may enter into foreign currency exchange contracts to facilitate transactions denominated in a foreign currency. Purchases and sales of securities, income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate in effect on the transaction date. Portfolio securities and assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies contain risks that those currencies will decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar. Occasionally, events may impact the availability or reliability of foreign exchange rates used to convert the U.S. dollar equivalent value. If such an event occurs, the foreign exchange rate will be valued at fair value using procedures established and approved by the Board.

The Funds do not separately report the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from changes in market prices on securities held. Such changes are included in net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments in the Statements of Operations.

Realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the recorded amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in foreign exchange rates on foreign denominated assets and liabilities other than investments in securities held at the end of the reporting period.

c. Securities Lending

Certain or all Funds participate in an agency based securities lending program to earn additional income. The Fund receives collateral in the form of cash and/or U.S. Government and Agency securities against the loaned securities in an amount equal to at least 102% of the fair value of the loaned securities. Collateral is maintained over the life of the loan in an amount not less than 100% of the fair value of loaned securities, as determined at the close of Fund business each day; any additional collateral required due to changes in security values is delivered to the Fund on the next business day. Any cash collateral received is deposited into a joint cash account with other funds and is used to invest in a money market fund managed by Franklin Advisers, Inc., an affiliate of the Funds. The Fund may receive income from the investment of cash collateral, in addition to lending fees and rebates paid by the borrower. Income from securities loaned, net of fees paid to the securities lending agent and/or third-party vendor, is reported separately in the Statements of Operations. The Fund bears the market risk with respect to any cash collateral investment, securities loaned, and the risk that the agent may default on its obligations to the Fund. If the borrower defaults on its obligation to return the securities loaned, the Fund has the right to repurchase the securities in the open market using the collateral received. The securities lending agent has agreed to indemnify the Fund in the event of default by a third party borrower.

d. Senior Floating Rate Interests

Certain or all Funds invest in senior secured corporate loans that pay interest at rates which are periodically reset by reference to a base lending rate plus a spread. These base lending rates are generally the prime rate offered by a designated U.S. bank or the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (SOFR). Senior secured corporate loans often require prepayment of principal from excess cash flows or at the discretion of the borrower. As a result, actual maturity may be substantially less than the stated maturity. Senior secured corporate loans in which the Funds invest are generally readily marketable, but may be subject to certain restrictions on resale.

e. Income and Deferred Taxes

It is each Fund's policy to qualify as a regulated investment company under the Internal Revenue Code. Each Fund intends to distribute to shareholders substantially all of its taxable income and net realized gains to relieve it from federal income and excise taxes. As a result, no provision for U.S. federal income taxes is required.

The Funds may be subject to foreign taxation related to income received, capital gains on the sale of securities and certain foreign currency transactions in the foreign jurisdictions in which the Funds invest. Foreign taxes, if any, are recorded based on the tax regulations and rates that exist in the foreign markets in which the Funds invest. When a capital gain tax is determined to apply, certain or all Funds record an estimated deferred tax liability in an amount that would be payable if the securities were disposed of on the valuation date.

Each Fund may recognize an income tax liability related to its uncertain tax positions under U.S. GAAP when the uncertain tax position has a less than 50% probability that it will be sustained upon examination by the tax authorities based on its technical merits. As of April 30, 2024, each Fund has determined that no tax liability is required in its financial statements related to uncertain tax positions for any open tax years (or expected to be taken in future tax years). Open tax years are those that remain subject to examination and are based on the statute of limitations in each jurisdiction in which the Fund invests.

f. Security Transactions, Investment Income, Expenses and Distributions

Security transactions are accounted for on trade date. Realized gains and losses on security transactions are determined on a specific identification basis. Interest income (including interest income from payment-in-kind securities, if any) and estimated expenses are accrued daily. Amortization of premium and accretion of discount on debt securities are included in interest income. Certain or all Funds may receive other income from investments in senior secured corporate loans or unfunded commitments, including amendment fees, consent fees or commitment fees. These fees are recorded as income when received by the Funds. Facility fees are recognized as income over the expected term of the loan. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date except for certain dividends from securities where the dividend rate is not available. In such cases, the dividend is recorded as soon as the information is received by the Funds. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Distributable earnings are determined according to income tax regulations (tax basis) and may differ from earnings recorded in accordance with U.S. GAAP. These differences may be permanent or temporary. Permanent differences are reclassified among capital accounts to reflect their tax character. These reclassifications have no impact on net assets or the results of operations. Temporary differences are not reclassified, as they may reverse in subsequent periods.

Common expenses incurred by the Trust are allocated among the Funds based on the ratio of net assets of each Fund to the combined net assets of the Trust or based on the ratio of number of shareholders of each Fund to the combined number of shareholders of the Trust. Fund specific expenses are charged directly to the Fund that incurred the expense.

Realized and unrealized gains and losses and net investment income, excluding class specific expenses, are allocated daily to each class of shares based upon the relative proportion of net assets of each class. Differences in per share distributions by class are generally due to differences in class specific expenses.

g. Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

h. Guarantees and Indemnifications

Under the Trust's organizational documents, its officers and trustees are indemnified by the Trust against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Trust. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Trust, on behalf of the Funds, enters into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Trust's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Trust that have not yet occurred. Currently, the Trust expects the risk of loss to be remote.

distribution plans, the Funds pay Distributors for costs incurred in connection with the servicing, sale and distribution of each Fund's shares up to the maximum annual plan rate for each class. The plan year, for purposes of monitoring compliance with the maximum annual plan rates, is February 1 through January 31 for each Fund.

The maximum annual plan rates, based on the average daily net assets, for each class, are as follows:

	Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund	Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund	Franklin Small- Mid Cap Growth Fund
Class A	0.35%	0.35%	0.25%
Class C	1.00%	1.00%	1.00%
Class R	0.50%	0.50%	0.50%

For Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund and Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund, the Board has set the current rate at 0.25% per year for Class A shares until further notice and approval by the Board.

d. Sales Charges/Underwriting Agreements

Front-end sales charges and contingent deferred sales charges (CDSC) do not represent expenses of the Funds. These charges are deducted from the proceeds of sales of fund shares prior to investment or from redemption proceeds prior to remittance, as applicable. Distributors has advised the Funds of the following commission transactions related to the sales and redemptions of the Funds' shares for the year:

Each class of shares pays transfer agent fees, calculated monthly and paid monthly, to Investor Services for its performance of shareholder servicing obligations. Effective October 1, 2023, the fees are based on a fixed margin earned by Investor Services and are allocated to the Funds based upon relative assets and relative transactions. Prior to October 1, 2023, the fees were based on an annualized asset based fee of 0.016% plus a transaction based fee. In addition, each class reimburses Investor Services for out of pocket expenses incurred and, except for Class R6, reimburses shareholder servicing fees paid to third parties. These fees paid to third parties are accrued and allocated daily based upon their relative proportion of such classes' aggregate net assets. Class R6 pays Investor Services transfer agent fees allocated specifically to that class based upon its relative assets and relative transactions.

For the year ended April 30, 2024, the Funds paid transfer agent fees as noted in the Statements of Operations of which the following amounts were retained by Investor Services:

f. Investments in Affiliated Management Investment Companies

Certain or all Funds invest in one or more affiliated management investment companies. As defined in the 1940 Act, an investment is deemed to be a "Controlled Affiliate" of a fund when a fund owns, either directly or indirectly, 25% or more of the affiliated fund's outstanding shares or has the power to exercise control over management or policies of such fund. The Funds do not invest for purposes of exercising a controlling influence over the management or policies. Management fees paid by the Funds are waived on assets invested in the affiliated management investment companies, as noted in the Statements of Operations, in an amount not to exceed the management and administrative fees paid directly or indirectly by each affiliate. During the year ended April 30, 2024, investments in affiliated management investment companies were as follows:

g. Waiver and Expense Reimbursements

Transfer agent fees on Class R6 shares of the Funds have been capped so that transfer agent fees for that class do not exceed 0.03% based on the average net assets of the class until August 31, 2024.

h. Other Affiliated Transactions

During the year ended April 30, 2023, the New Jersey Better Educational Savings Trust Program - Franklin Templeton Managed Investments Options (529 Portfolios) redeemed out of the Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund. As a result, on July 22, 2022, the Fund delivered portfolio securities and cash that were transferred in-kind to the 529 Portfolios, which included $145,404,409 of net realized gains. As such gains are not taxable to the Fund and are not distributed to remaining shareholders, they are reclassified from accumulated net realized gains to paid-in capital.

i. Interfund Transactions

Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund engaged in purchases and sales of investments with funds or other accounts that have common investment managers (or affiliated investment managers), directors, trustees or officers. During the year ended April 30, 2024, these purchase and sale transactions aggregated $0 and $1,743,976, respectively, with net realized losses of $224,024.

4. Expense Offset Arrangement

The Funds have previously entered into an arrangement with their custodian whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances are used to reduce a portion of the Funds' custodian expenses. During the year ended April 30, 2024, the custodian fees were reduced as noted in the Statements of Operations. Effective July 10, 2023, earned credits, if any, will be recognized as income.

At April 30, 2024, in connection with securities lending transactions, certain or all Funds loaned investments and received cash collateral as follows:

	Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund	Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund	Franklin Small- Mid Cap Growth Fund
Securities lending transactions ^a :
Equity investments ^b	$24,049,725	$16,408,075	$19,901,900

^a The agreements can be terminated at any time.

b The gross amount of recognized liability for such transactions is included in payable upon return of securities loaned in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

7. Restricted Securities

Certain or all Funds invest in securities that are restricted under the Securities Act of 1933 (1933 Act). Restricted securities are often purchased in private placement transactions, and cannot be sold without prior registration unless the sale is pursuant to an exemption under the 1933 Act. Disposal of these securities may require greater effort and expense, and prompt sale at an acceptable price may be difficult. The Funds may have registration rights for restricted securities. The issuer generally incurs all registration costs.

At April 30, 2024, investments in restricted securities, excluding securities exempt from registration under the 1933 Act, were as follows:

8. Holdings of 5% Voting Securities of Portfolio Companies

The 1940 Act defines "affiliated companies" to include investments in portfolio companies in which a fund owns 5% or more of the outstanding voting securities. Additionally, as defined in the 1940 Act, an investment is deemed to be a "Controlled Affiliate" of a fund when a fund owns, either directly or indirectly, 25% or more of the affiliated companies' outstanding shares or has the power to exercise control over management or policies of such company. During the year ended April 30, 2024, investments in "affiliated companies" were as follows:

^aThe Fund also invests in unrestricted securities of the issuer, valued at $1,804,600 as of April 30, 2024.

9. Credit Facility

The Funds, together with other U.S. registered and foreign investment funds (collectively, Borrowers), managed by Franklin Templeton, are borrowers in a joint syndicated senior unsecured credit facility totaling $2.675 billion (Global Credit Facility) which matures on January 31, 2025. This Global Credit Facility provides a source of funds to the Borrowers for temporary and emergency purposes, including the ability to meet future unanticipated or unusually large redemption requests.

Under the terms of the Global Credit Facility, the Funds shall, in addition to interest charged on any borrowings made by the Funds and other costs incurred by the Funds, pay their share of fees and expenses incurred in connection with the implementation and maintenance of the Global Credit Facility, based upon their relative share of the aggregate net assets of all of the Borrowers, including an annual commitment fee of 0.15% based upon the unused portion of the Global Credit Facility. These fees are reflected in other expenses in the Statements of Operations. During the year ended April 30, 2024, the Funds did not use the Global Credit Facility.

10. Fair Value Measurements

The Funds follow a fair value hierarchy that distinguishes between market data obtained from independent sources (observable inputs) and the Funds' own market assumptions (unobservable inputs). These inputs are used in determining the value of the Funds' financial instruments and are summarized in the following fair value hierarchy:

- Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical financial instruments
- Level 2 other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar financial instruments, interest rates, prepayment speed, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 significant unobservable inputs (including the Funds' own assumptions in determining the fair value of financial instruments)

^aAs of April 30, 2024, no longer an affiliate.

^bMay include accretion, amortization, and/or other cost basis adjustments.

^cAs of April 30, 2024, no longer held by the fund.

The input levels are not necessarily an indication of the risk or liquidity associated with financial instruments at that level.

A summary of inputs used as of April 30, 2024, in valuing the Funds' assets carried at fair value, is as follows:

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Trustees of Franklin Strategic Series and Shareholders of Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund, Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund and Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund

Opinions on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, including the schedules of investments, of Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund, Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund and Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund (three of the funds constituting Franklin Strategic Series, hereafter collectively referred to as the "Funds") as of April 30, 2024, the related statements of operations for the year ended April 30, 2024, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period ended April 30, 2024, including the related notes, and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended April 30, 2024 (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of each of the Funds as of April 30, 2024, the results of each of their operations for the year then ended, the changes in each of their net assets for each of the two years in the period ended April 30, 2024 and each of the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended April 30, 2024 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinions

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Funds' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Funds' financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Funds in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of April 30, 2024 by correspondence with the custodian, transfer agent, brokers and agent banks; when replies were not received from brokers or agent banks, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

/s/PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP San Francisco, California June 20, 2024

We have served as the auditor of one or more investment companies in the Franklin Templeton Group of Funds since 1948.

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and Rules adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission require the Fund to disclose whether the Fund's Audit Committee includes at least one member who is an audit committee financial expert within the meaning of such Act and Rules. The Fund's Board has determined that there is at least one such financial expert on the Audit Committee and has designated Mary C. Choksi as its audit committee financial expert. The Board believes that Ms. Choksi qualifies as such an expert in view of her extensive business background and experience. She served as a director of Avis Budget Group, Inc. (2007 to 2020) and formerly, Founder and Senior Advisor, Strategic Investment Group (1987 to 2017). Ms. Choksi has been a Member of the Fund's Audit Committee since 2014. As a result of such background and experience, the Board believes that Ms. Choksi has acquired an understanding of generally accepted accounting principles and financial statements, the general application of such principles in connection with the accounting estimates, accruals and reserves, and analyzing and evaluating financial statements that present a breadth and level of complexity of accounting issues generally comparable to those of the Fund, as well as an understanding of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting and an understanding of audit committee functions. Ms. Choksi is an independent Board member as that term is defined under the relevant Securities and Exchange Commission Rules and Releases.

Board Approval of Investment Management Agreements

FRANKLIN STRATEGIC SERIES
Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund
Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund
Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund
(each a Fund)

At an in-person meeting held on April 16, 2024 (Meeting), the Board of Trustees (Board) of Franklin Strategic Series (Trust), including a majority of the trustees who are not "interested persons" as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940 (Independent Trustees), reviewed and approved the continuance of the investment management agreement between Franklin Advisers, Inc. (Manager) and the Trust, on behalf of each Fund (each a Management Agreement) for an additional one-year period. The Independent Trustees received advice from and met separately with Independent Trustee counsel in considering whether to approve the continuation of each Management Agreement. Although the Management Agreements for the Funds were considered at the same Board meeting, the Board considered the information provided to it about the Funds together and with respect to each Fund separately as the Board deemed appropriate.

In considering the continuation of each Management Agreement, the Board reviewed and considered information provided by the Manager at the Meeting and throughout the year at meetings of the Board and its committees. The Board also reviewed and considered information provided in response to a detailed set of requests for information submitted to the Manager by Independent Trustee counsel on behalf of the Independent Trustees in connection with the annual contract renewal process. In addition, prior to the Meeting, the Independent Trustees held a virtual contract renewal meeting at which the Independent Trustees first conferred amongst themselves and Independent Trustee counsel about contract renewal matters, and then met with management to request additional information that the Independent Trustees reviewed and considered prior to and at the Meeting. The Board reviewed and considered all of the factors it deemed relevant in approving the continuance of each Management Agreement, including, but not limited to: (i) the nature, extent and quality of the services provided by the Manager; (ii) the investment performance of each Fund; (iii) the costs of the services provided and profits realized by the Manager and its affiliates from the relationship with each Fund; (iv) the extent to which economies of scale are realized as each Fund grows; and (v) whether fee levels reflect these economies of scale for the benefit of Fund investors.

In approving the continuance of each Management Agreement, the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined, through the exercise of its business judgment, that the terms of the Management Agreement are fair and reasonable and that the continuance of the Management Agreement is in the best interests of the applicable Fund and its shareholders. While attention was given to all information furnished, the following discusses some primary factors relevant to the Board's determination.

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services

The Board reviewed and considered information regarding the nature, extent and quality of investment management services provided by the Manager and its affiliates to the Funds and their shareholders. This information included, among other things, the qualifications, background and experience of the senior management and investment personnel of the Manager, as well as information on succession planning where appropriate; the structure of investment personnel compensation; oversight of thirdparty service providers; investment performance reports and related financial information for each Fund; reports on expenses and shareholder services; legal and compliance matters; risk controls; pricing and other services provided by the Manager and its affiliates; and management fees charged by the Manager and its affiliates to US funds and other accounts, including management's explanation of differences among accounts where relevant. The Board also reviewed and considered an annual report on payments made by Franklin Templeton (FT) or the Funds to financial intermediaries, as well as a memorandum relating to thirdparty servicing arrangements. The Board acknowledged the ongoing integration of the Putnam family of funds into the FT family of funds and management's continued development of strategies to address areas of heightened concern in the mutual fund industry, including various regulatory initiatives and continuing geopolitical concerns.

The Board also reviewed and considered the benefits provided to Fund shareholders of investing in a fund that is part of the FT family of funds. The Board noted the financial position of Franklin Resources, Inc. (FRI), the Manager's parent, and its commitment to the mutual fund business as evidenced by its continued reassessment of the fund offerings in response to FT acquisitions and the market environment, as well as project initiatives and capital investments relating to the services provided to the Funds by the FT organization. The Board specifically noted FT's commitment to technological innovation and advancement, including its initiative to create a new enterprise-wide artificial intelligence platform.

Following consideration of such information, the Board was satisfied with the nature, extent and quality of services provided by the Manager and its affiliates to the Funds and their shareholders.

Fund Performance

The Board reviewed and considered the performance results of each Fund over various time periods ended December 31, 2023. The Board considered the performance returns for each Fund in comparison to the performance returns of mutual funds deemed comparable to the Fund included in a universe (Performance Universe) selected by Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. (Broadridge), an independent provider of investment company data. The Board received a description of the methodology used by Broadridge to select the mutual funds included in a Performance Universe. The Board also reviewed and considered Fund performance reports provided and discussions that occurred with portfolio managers at Board meetings throughout the year. A summary of each Fund's performance results is below.

Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund - The Performance Universe for the Fund included the Fund and all retail and institutional multi-cap growth funds. The Board noted that the Fund's annualized total return for the one-, three-, five- and 10-year periods was above the median of its Performance Universe. The Board concluded that the Fund's performance was satisfactory.

Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund and Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund - The Performance Universe for the Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund included the Fund and all retail and institutional small-cap growth funds. The Performance Universe for Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund included the Fund and all retail and institutional mid-cap growth funds. The Board noted that each Fund's annualized total return for the one- and five-year periods was above the median of its Performance Universe, but for the three- and 10-year periods was below the median of its Performance Universe. The Board further noted that each Fund's one-year annualized total return was in the first quintile. The Board concluded that each Fund's performance was satisfactory.

Comparative Fees and Expenses

The Board reviewed and considered information regarding each Fund's actual total expense ratio and its various components, including, as applicable, management fees; transfer agent expenses; underlying fund expenses; Rule 12b-1 and non-Rule 12b-1 service fees; and other nonmanagement fees. The Board also noted the quarterly and annual reports it receives on all marketing support payments made by FT to financial intermediaries. The Board considered the actual total expense ratio and, separately, the contractual management fee rate, without the effect of fee waivers, if any (Management Rate) of each Fund in comparison to the median expense ratio and median Management Rate, respectively, of other mutual funds deemed comparable to and with a similar expense structure to the Fund selected by Broadridge (Expense Group). Broadridge fee and expense data is based upon information taken from each fund's most recent annual or semi-annual report, which reflects historical asset levels that may be quite different from those currently existing, particularly in a period of market volatility. While recognizing such inherent limitation and the fact that expense ratios and Management Rates generally increase as assets decline and decrease as assets grow, the Board believed the independent analysis conducted by Broadridge to be an appropriate measure of comparative fees and expenses. The Broadridge Management Rate includes administrative charges, and the actual total expense ratio, for comparative consistency, was shown for Class A shares for each Fund and for each of the other funds in each Fund's respective Expense Group. The Board received a description of the methodology used by Broadridge to select the mutual funds included in an Expense Group.

The Expense Group for the Franklin Growth Opportunities Fund included the Fund, 12 other multi-cap growth funds and one mid-cap growth fund. The Expense Group for the Franklin Small Cap Growth Fund included the Fund and 14 other small-cap growth funds. The Expense Group for the Franklin Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund included the Fund and 11 other mid-cap growth funds. The Board noted that the Management Rates and actual total expense ratios for these Funds were below the medians and in the first quintile (least expensive) of their respective Expense Groups. The Board concluded that the Management Rates charged to these Funds are reasonable.

Profitability

The Board reviewed and considered information regarding the profits realized by the Manager and its affiliates in connection with the operation of each Fund. In this respect, the Board considered the Fund profitability analysis provided by the Manager that addresses the overall profitability of FT's US fund business, as well as its profits in providing investment management and other services to each of the individual funds during the 12-month period ended September 30, 2023, being the most recent fiscal year-end for FRI. The Board noted that although management continually makes refinements to its methodologies used in calculating profitability in response to organizational and product-related changes, the overall methodology has remained consistent with that used in the Funds' profitability report presentations from prior years. The Board also noted that an independent registered public accounting firm has been engaged by the Manager to periodically review and assess the allocation methodologies to be used solely by the Funds' Board with respect to the profitability analysis.

The Board noted management's belief that costs incurred in establishing the infrastructure necessary for the type of mutual fund operations conducted by the Manager and its affiliates may not be fully reflected in the expenses allocated to each Fund in determining its profitability, as well as the fact that the level of profits, to a certain extent, reflected operational cost savings and efficiencies initiated by management. As part of this evaluation, the Board considered management's outsourcing of certain operations, which effort has required considerable up-front expenditures by the Manager but, over the long run is expected to result in greater efficiencies. The Board also noted management's expenditures in improving shareholder services provided to the Funds, as well as the need to implement systems and meet additional regulatory and compliance requirements resulting from recent US Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulatory requirements.

The Board also considered the extent to which the Manager and its affiliates might derive ancillary benefits from fund operations, including revenues generated from transfer agent services, potential benefits resulting from personnel and systems enhancements necessitated by fund growth, as well as increased leverage with service providers and counterparties. Based upon its consideration of all these factors, the Board concluded that the level of profits realized by the Manager and its affiliates from providing services to each Fund was not excessive in view of the nature, extent and quality of services provided to each Fund.

Economies of Scale

The Board reviewed and considered the extent to which the Manager may realize economies of scale, if any, as each Fund grows larger and whether each Fund's management fee structure reflects any economies of scale for the benefit of shareholders. With respect to possible economies of scale, the Board noted the existence of management fee breakpoints, which operate generally to share any economies of scale with a Fund's shareholders by reducing the Fund's effective management fees as the Fund grows in size. The Board considered the Manager's view that any analyses of potential economies of scale in managing a particular fund are inherently limited in light of the joint and common costs and investments the Manager incurs across the FT family of funds as a whole. The Board noted that each Fund had experienced a significant decrease in assets and would not be expected to demonstrate additional economies of scale in the near term, but concluded that to the extent economies of scale may be realized by the Manager and its affiliates, each Fund's management fee structure provided a sharing of benefits with the Fund and its shareholders as the Fund grows.

Conclusion

Based on its review, consideration and evaluation of all factors it believed relevant, including the above-described factors and conclusions, the Board unanimously approved the continuation of each Management Agreement for an additional one-year period.

Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures

The Trust's investment manager has established Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures (Policies) that the Trust uses to determine how to vote proxies relating to portfolio securities. Shareholders may view the Trust's complete Policies online at franklintempleton.com. Alternatively, shareholders may request copies of the Policies free of charge by calling the Proxy Group collect at (954) 527-7678 or by sending a written request to: Franklin Templeton Companies, LLC, 300 S.E. 2nd Street, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301, Attention: Proxy Group. Copies of the Trust's proxy voting records are also made available online at franklintempleton.com and posted on the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's website at sec.gov and reflect the most recent 12-month period ended June 30.

Quarterly Schedule of Investments

The Trust files a complete schedule of investments with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for the first and third quarters for each fiscal year as an exhibit to its report on Form N-PORT. Shareholders may view the filed Form N-PORT by visiting the Commission's website at sec. gov. The filed form may also be viewed and copied at the Commission's Public Reference Room in Washington, DC.
