

Meet Your Speaker

Giuliana Borello

Head of Training and Research, Italy

Franklin Templeton Academy

giuliana.borello@franklintempleton.com

Background

Giuliana Borello brings over 15 years of experience across academia and the financial industry. She holds a Ph.D. in Financial Markets and Institutions from Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore (2010) and earned the National Scientific Qualification as associate professor in Financial Intermediaries Economics in 2017. She has contributed to Fintech research for Consob, collaborated with the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia and served as visiting professor at the University of Gothenburg in 2019.

Experience and Credentials

A recognized speaker and panelist at leading industry events on digital assets and tokenization, Giuliana focuses on the institutional adoption of distributed ledger technology (DLT) across treasury, liquidity and wealth management use cases. Her research spans fintech, tokenized finance, innovative financing, marketplace lending and financial stability, with publications in international journals such as the Journal of Banking and Finance, the Journal of Business Economics and the Journal of Business Review. She also serves as a referee for leading journals, including the European Journal of Finance and the International Journal of Emerging Markets.

She previously served as Board Member and President of the Risk Committee at BancoPosta Fondi SGR and as Board Member at SOMEK S.p.A., bringing governance experience across both asset management and listed industrial companies.

Personal

Growing up by the sea, Giuliana is a keen observer of the waves—capable of capturing opportunities and risks in both the gentle breakers and the "big waves," in nature as in the financial sector. Outside of work, she enjoys walking and closely observing nature and city architecture. She lives in Milan, and her nearly impossible mission is to raise her children with simplicity, almost in an analog way.

Our mission is to empower our partners with insights, education and consulting to drive extraordinary outcomes. We are committed to providing knowledge and resources designed to help you stay ahead and grow your business. With a comprehensive engagement model, we offer a range of programs focused on investment education, professional development and wealth planning.